

FRIEDMAN ACCOUNTANTS DATA CENTER

1 Liberty Plaza, New York, NY

Description

As the Low Voltage Engineer for the relocation of the Friedman Accounting office, Ryan Soames Engineering were responsible for the IT infrastructure, as well as the design and coordination of the main data center on the 21st floor of the building.

The data center project included full systems and power redundancy, with off-site replication and backups. The data center is provided with three 20-ton computer room A/C units tied into the base building condenser water system and building management system.
